PRODUCT SUMMARY

CircuFlow is a natural circulation & arterial support formula with a synergistic blend of herbs, and important co-factors for supporting optimal circulatory system health.

MORE INFORMATION

Diosmin and Hesperidin are bioflavonoids found in citrus fruits which are often used in combination to support circulation and lymphatic flow. They provide antioxidant protection against free radical damage and support normal vein function.

CircuFlow contains important amino acids Acetyl L-Carnitine and Propionyl L-Carnitine with antioxidant properties to support healthy circulation, energy and cardiovascular function.

Horse Chestnut has a long history of use supporting the circulatory and lymphatic systems. Research shows it may help support capillary strength and circulation.

Prickly Ash Bark is often used to support normal blood circulation and blood flow to periphery and joints, and to support a healthy lymphatic system. Cayenne Pepper has a similar action but is faster acting.

Cinnamon is a warming herb that is used traditionally in China to support blood flow.

- May support healthy circulatory system health.
 - May support lymphatic system health
