

QUANTUMRX TOTAL RELAX

PRODUCT SUMMARY

QuantumRX Total Relax provides herbs to support the nervous system, help with sleep and balanced moods, help manage cravings and support the digestive system which is particularly vulnerable to stress.

MORE INFORMATION

Stress and worry can contribute to many health conditions, therefore encouraging the body to relax is an essential part of any healing process.

The more relaxed you are during the day, the easier it is to sleep at night. QuantumRX Total Relax encourages relaxation without causing day-time drowsiness.

Several research studies support the efficacy of Valerian, Passionflower and Lemon Balm for nervous system and sleep support. Milky Oat Seed is traditionally used to help manage cravings and is shown to support brain function and cognition in some research studies.

QuantumRX Total Relax also contains L-theanine, the amino acid responsible for the relaxing and mood-balancing effects associated with drinking green tea.

QuantumRX Total Relax is manufactured in a GMP (Good Manufacturing Practice) certified plant and is an excipient free product. A high quality vegetable capsule ensures greater protection of encapsulated nutrients.

- Herbal complex to support the nervous system, mood balance, sleep and digestion
 - Encourages relaxation without causing day-time drowsiness
