

BIOTRACE BIOACTIVE SILICA

$44.00 inc GST

PRODUCT SUMMARY

BioActive Silica delivers food grade silica in a liquid form with Aloe Vera Gel. It allows flexible dosing and is a rich source of silica suitable for the whole family.

MORE INFORMATION

BioActive Silica is derived from MMST (potassium salt), which releases orthosilicic acid, the most easily absorbed form of silica. Clinical research shows that silica from MMST is absorbed four times better than any other supplemental source.

Silica may support bone matrix quality and bone density, as indicated in many scientific studies. Silica is an important component of the collagen in growing bones that typically declines with age. Healthy collagen is rich in silica to help nourish the bone matrix and support remineralisation.

Silica may also support healthy joints, cartilage, ligaments and tendons, thus may be useful for active people, athletes, convalescents, and the elderly.

Soft, brittle nails and dull, thinning hair can indicate systemic silica deficiency. Thus supplementing with silica may support strong, healthy hair and nails.

Silica may be beneficial for ageing and damaged skin due to its effect on collagen synthesis. Collagen is essential for the skin's healthy appearance and elasticity.

BioActive Silica is manufactured in a GMP (Good Manufacturing Practice) certified plant and is free of toxic excipients.
