PRODUCT SUMMARY

BioVital Enzymes offers a porcine-free, vegetarian/vegan enzyme complex of digestive and pancreatic enzymes to help optimise digestion and gastrointestinal health.

MORE INFORMATION

Many people suffer from digestive discomfort, bloating, gassiness, and food intolerances due to stress or inadequate enzyme and stomach acid (hydrochloric acid/HCL) production.

HCL and enzyme production decrease naturally as we age but can also be affected by infections, pancreatic insufficiency, some medications, mineral deficiencies and the Western diet.

When partially undigested food passes through the digestive tract essential nutrients are lost and symptoms of digestive discomfort can occur. This may present as bloating, gassiness, irregular bowels, queasiness or discomfort.

BioVital Enzymes is a digestive enzyme formula designed to support the digestion of proteins, fats, dairy products, soy, legumes, plant fibres, grains and sugars.

Biofilms are created by clusters of microbes that can take up residence in your gastrointestinal tract (GIT). Biofilms house and protect colonies of undesirable microbes and parasites from antibiotics and other anti-infective agents.

BioVital Enzymes may help to digest biofilms in the digestive tract and elsewhere in the body.

- Porcine-free, vegetarian/vegan enzyme complex
- Broad spectrum enzymes for proteins, fats, dairy products, soy, legumes, plant fibres, grains and sugars
- Helps combat food intolerances and digestive discomfort

5 out of 5

Have used this for my clients as it contains lipase to help with fat digestion.
