

QUANTUMRX ALLIUM 3000 MCG

PRODUCT SUMMARY

Allicin is the bio-active compound in garlic that is responsible for its many health benefits. QRX Allium contains high dose natural allicin extract from garlic bulbs (Allium sativum).

MORE INFORMATION

Allium sativum has a long tradition of use for supporting the immune system, cardiovascular system and detoxification. Allicin's potent antioxidant properties are validated in several scientific studies.

Garlic extract was also found to support mental clarity and normal brain function in some studies.

Scientific studies show that garlic extract may support healthy cholesterol levels when taken for more than two months.

Allicin may support cardiomyocyte (heart cell) function by supporting the reduction of oxidative stress on the heart. Allicin may also support the vascular and circulatory systems.

Allicin may support optimal immune system function. This may be due to allicin's ability to support normal development of immune cells such as macrophages, lymphocytes, natural killer

(NK) cells, dendritic cells and eosinophils.

QRX Allium is manufactured in a GMP (Good Manufacturing Practice) certified plant and is an excipient free product. A high quality vegetable capsule ensures greater protection of encapsulated nutrients.
