

QUANTUMRX MODIFIED CITRUS PECTIN

PRODUCT SUMMARY

Modified Citrus Pectin (MCP) is a natural supplement derived from the white inner peel of citrus fruit. Research shows that it may support heavy metal detoxification, without causing adverse side-effects or disturbing essential minerals.

MORE INFORMATION

Rapid industrialisation is causing high levels of toxic metals in our environment. Studies show that exposure through inhalation and ingestion is at unprecedented levels. Furthermore, high toxic metal levels correlate with many adverse health effects.

Unmodified citrus pectin is a non-digestible polysaccharide. MCP is citrus pectin broken down into a complex polysaccharide, creating a soluble fibre that is easy to digest and absorb.

Preliminary research shows that MCP may support kidney function. This is important when mobilising toxic metals as the kidneys need support to filter circulating toxins.

*Heavy metal detoxification should be administered by a trained health professional.
